TRADER FAQS

01

HOW DO I APPLY?

Please complete an online application form HERE. We aim to answer all stall applications within seven working days. If you have not heard from us please double check your spam or junk folders.

02

WHAT ARE THE STALL PRICES & SIZES?

Stall prices and space allocation vary per event, and the details can be found later in this PDF aswell as on the application form. Please note that table size may vary per venue, this is also be detailed on the form above.

03

CAN I SHARE A TABLE?

In order to keep these events as cost effective as possible and to be fair to all traders, all table bookings are made for individual use only.

04

IS THERE FREE PARKING?

There is free parking for traders at Birmingham, and we will advise you on the cheapest options for parking at other venues.

05

WHAT HAPPENS NEXT?

If your application is successful, we will send you a confirmation and invoice letter which may ask you for further information about your enterprise. You will then have ten working days to pay your stall fee via bank transfer.

You will hear from us again approximately a week prior to the event with details about the day including access and parking as well as social media assets for the event.

TRADER TERMS & CONDITIONS

Retrospective Ltd (the organisers of Geek Mart and the Book Extravaganza) run family friendly events, and as such do not permit the sale of adult material. This includes explicit or extreme art, posters, photography or literature. If you are unsure if your material is unsuitable for the event, please make an enquiry prior to booking.

All bookings are non-refundable and non-transferable. Your booking is not confirmed until we receive payment and Retrospective Ltd has the right to cancel any bookings if the payment is not made promptly (within 10 days) or you are found to contravene our terms and conditions.

At Geek Mart, we permit one trader per table and we advise all traders to carry their own public liability insurance.

If you require a space that that isn't listed in the application form, please select 'other space requirements' and let us know your requirements in the Trader Details section of the form (eg. clothes rails/vehicles).

Retrospective Ltd will not accept any aggressive or abusive behaviour in person or online. If you do so, we hold the right to cancel your booking without refund, and you will be banned from all future events.

Authors and traders are not permitted to canvass other stall holders for external events not affiliated to Rosie's Retro Bazaar during Book Extravaganza or Geek Mart events.

It is the responsibility of the trader to inform us at the point of booking if you have any disability needs in order for us to facilitate them.

We reserve the right to update the Terms and Conditions at any point.
